

Philosophy Questions

Is it worse to fail at something or never attempt it in the first place?

If you could choose just one thing to change about the world, what would it be?

The image features a white rounded rectangle centered on a blue background. The background is decorated with white, brushstroke-style clouds. The text "What is true happiness?" is written in a bold, orange, sans-serif font within the white rectangle.

What is true happiness?

What makes you
you?

What makes a good friend?

Is it easier to love
or to be loved?

Can we have happiness
without sadness?

Is it more important to be liked or respected?

What is infinity?

What will happen
at the end of the world?

What is consciousness?

What is the meaning of life?

The background of the slide is a vibrant blue with white, expressive brushstrokes that create a sense of movement and depth. In the center, a large white rounded rectangle serves as a clean canvas for the text.

What is art?

Should governments penalize people for unhealthy lifestyles?

The background of the slide is a vibrant blue with white, expressive brushstrokes that create a sense of movement and depth. In the center, a large white rounded rectangle serves as a container for the main text.

How does gravity work?

Where were people before they were born?

What are numbers?

The background of the slide is a vibrant blue with white, expressive brushstrokes that create a sense of movement and depth. In the center, a large white rounded rectangle serves as a canvas for the text.

What is freedom?

Should people care more about doing the right thing,
or doing things right?

What is intelligence?

